

WANT TO BECOME AN FLC?

This is what is needed to be a Farm Labor Contractor in the State of California with links on where to find guidelines and applications.

- Federal FLC Registration Application

<https://www.dol.gov/sites/dolgov/files/WHD/legacy/files/wh530.pdf>

- State of California FLC Registration Application
  - Take and Pass the Farm Labor Contractor Exam (once every two years)

https://www.dir.ca.gov/DLSE/FLC\_Application\_form.pdf

- Worker's Compensation Insurance Certificate
- State of California FLC Bond

https://www.dir.ca.gov/dwc/dwc\_home\_page.htm

- The 9-Hour FLC Class
  - The applicant must participate in at least nine hours of relevant education classes for each license period
  - (Recommendation links)

➤ <https://www.fresnocitycollege.edu/academics/career-and-technical-education/training-institute/farm-labor-contractor-ce.html>

➤ <https://dllflc.com/9-hour-flc-class/>

- County Ag Commissioner Registration(s)

-Every FLC must have registered in each county to which the applicant will dispatch workers